

College of Agricultural University

Anand Agricultural University, Anand

NAAC Criteria: 7.1.3 Facilities in the institution for degradable and non-degradable waste

College of Agricultural Information Technology has green campus around the college building. The college campus provides greenery with garden area having biodiversity of shrubs, trees and ground covers with lawn. A compost pit made from the bricks structure at one side of college campus. The bio waste generated from the garden as well as other biodegradable wastes generated from college transferred in to the compost pit for decomposition to produce compost. Within two to three months well decomposed compost is prepared and this compost is used in garden and in ornamental plants in college periphery area. Therefore, whatever biodegradable and organic waste generated from the college as well as garden which is reuse to made compost which is used in garden areas.

