“Thalassemia Awareness Programme”

On December 13th, 2024, the National Service Scheme (NSS) unit at the College of Horticulture, Anand Agricultural University (AAU), Anand, in collaboration with the Indian Red Cross Society, Ahmedabad, successfully organized a Thalassemia awareness program. The event, conducted under the guidance of the Principal and Dean of the College, featured an insightful lecture on Thalassemia by representatives from the Red Cross Society. A total of 42 first-year BSc (Hons) Horticulture students, serving as NSS volunteers, participated by donating their blood samples for Thalassemia testing.
