

National Anti-Ragging Week Celebrated from 12th to 18th August 2024 at Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Anand Agricultural University, Dahod

From 12th to 18th August 2024, the Polytechnic in Agricultural Engineering, Anand Agricultural University, Dahod observed National Anti-Ragging Week with a series of impactful activities aimed at fostering a safe and inclusive campus environment. The week-long event was conducted under the guidance of Principal Dr. B.K. Yaduvanshi and meticulously organized by SRC Chairman Dr. F.G. Sayyad and Prof. S.S. Chinchorkar.

A key highlight of the week was a poster presentation competition focused on the theme of anti-ragging. Students participated with enthusiasm, using their creativity to convey powerful messages against ragging. The posters showcased the students' deep understanding of the issue and called for collective action to eliminate ragging from educational institutions.

The poster presentations were evaluated by a distinguished jury, including Dr. H.L. Kacha, Senior Scientist and Head of KVK, Dahod; Dr. R. Radharani; Dr. N. Makwana; Er. M.S. Khardiwar; and Er. J.B. Bhimani. The judges praised the students for their innovative and thought-provoking work, commending their efforts to raise awareness about this critical issue.

The event not only provided a platform for students to express their stance against ragging but also reinforced the institution's commitment to creating a safe and supportive learning environment. Under the leadership of Principal Dr. B.K. Yaduvanshi and the diligent efforts of the organizing committee, National Anti-Ragging Week was a resounding success, leaving a lasting impact on all participants and the broader campus community.
